Motion text

Insert from line 22 to 23:

democracy, freedom of speech and human rights as it protects the fundamental right to education.

We recognise the importance of this programme, especially bearing in mind the oppression students face even in some of the Western countries. Largest example of this happening can be seen when it comes to the protests of students across Europe advocating and protesting of the human rights of Palestinian people and the recognition of State of Palestine

Reason

We believe that a resolution like this cannot and should not pass without recognizing this as one of the problems. Although it is intended to call for the strengthening of the Students at Risk program, we believe it is important to note the oppression by the state that students in the West experience when they fight for the rights of Palestinians.
