statutory issues ahead of the GA, and facilitate political exchanges among the Member Organisations mid-mandate. This event will also be the occasion to offer a follow-up session on major political events and debates within FYEG, such as for instance the ongoing debates on nuclear energy or on defense policy. A recap of the different positions and arguments, as well as of previous FYEG debates and conclusions will be provided, so that it is brought equally to the whole network. This will also ensure that new Member Organisation and delegates can benefit from an official introduction to the contemporary discussions within the Federation.

Reason

We believe this will bring more equality among the different delegates for the incoming GA, ensuring that they are provided in a formal manner with the recent debates and agreements found at previous FYEG GAs. We think this will help all delegates think of GAs in a more long-term manner, and benefit to new MOs or MOs who are becoming active again after a hiatus to gain the ""historical"" knowledge on FYEG. We also trust that this will provide a space that is less rushed than the GA to mention diverse topics of debates and go deeper in the arguments and so on.
