Political Platform text

From line 1684 to 1689:

Human beings, not state security, must be at the heart of all security efforts. When it comes to conflict response, humanitarian action,sanctions and ~~dialogue~~the supply of defense weapons to the attacked country must be prioritised over militarised intervention~~.~~ ~~Imposing sanctions has precedent over militarized intervention as well, yet sanctions must be targeted and do no harm to the overall population~~. Within international organisations dealing with security, the EU must actively fight for solutions built on the principles of

From line 1691 to 1693:

requirement to impose international economic sanctions. However, we recognise that in certain situations ~~dialogue is~~such measures are not enough. When genocide or other horrific human rights abuses are occuring, or unprovoked crimes of aggression

Reason

Appeasement and so-called “dialogue” failed. Sanctions should be as strong as possible to restrict the military potential of the aggressor country.
