Reason

Amendment of PP1 A9

We agree with the basis of the amendment proposed by Ostra Zielen.
Our counter-amendment:

1. Makes a minor change to emphasise the rise of as well as the increasing aggression of neoimperialist and authoritarian powers on the rest of the world.
2. Changes China to the PRC.

Why:

1. The rise of other powers in themselves does not imply the dire far-reaching consequences the original text had, however we assume the original text wanted to stress how neoimperialist powers such as China increasingly becoming relevant and exerting power and influence on the rest of the world is of major concern. We want to thus stress the need for cooperation and an international response against this.

2. Besides official terminology, we want to distinguish the PRC from the ROC (Taiwan) with an outlook to our resetting of our one-China-policy.
