R2 A1: Towards an agroecological Europe by 2030

Proposers Protests

Motion text

Delete from line 52 to 53:

food systems by 2030 while ensuring a just transition, through the following measures: t

Insert from line 98 to 99:

- production and consumption and minimise food waste, while increasing the ambition and reshaping the goals of the Farm to Fork strategy. The redesign of the CAP also has to stop the discriminatory practice of countries not receiving the same amount of subsidies, mainly punishing farmers in the newest EU member states.

Reason

We do not see it fair that French farmers receive disproportionally way more than, e.g., Latvian farmers. Here is a short summary:
Nationally, France is the country that benefits the most from the CAP funding, followed by Germany and Spain. Overall, farmers in the 15 older EU member states benefit much more from the CAP than the newer members, as their farmers get larger payments per hectare.
https://www.slowfood.com/eus-common-agricultural-policy-key-things-you-should-know/