Title: PP1 A1: Political Platform

Political Platform text

Insert from line 170 to 171:

be removed that prevent disabled people from accessing their civil and political rights; these can include physical and social barriers.This means ensuring that disabled people are properly represented in political life and decision-making processes. Representation must be meaningful, not symbolic, and must include disabled voices at every level.
FYEG supports the implementation of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (UNCRPD), and particularly the right to independent living, personal autonomy, and full inclusion in community life.

Reason
We think that it was useful in order for our political platform to be more complete to add a word on the importance of political representation of disabled people, as well as the important United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities and its focus on autonomy, independence and community life.
