Motion text

Insert from line 71 to 72:

FYEG reaffirms its commitment to a decolonial, anti-racist, anti-capitalist, and feminist approach to international justice. Legality, especially when shaped by colonial powers, cannot replace morality. Throughout history, laws have upheld slavery, apartheid, and occupation, let them not uphold genocide as well. Our values compel us to speak out against, apartheid, genocide , and settler colonialism whenever or wherever they occur. Justice must come from the people for the people.

Reason

We find it important to recognize that although the ICC, and ICJ have not ruled on whether the situation in Gaza constitutes a Genocide, we as FYEG form our opinion based on our believes and ideologies. International law is framed by multitude of variables, where morality often is not one.
