R4 AM21: Protecting International Law Against Empires: to Infinity and Beyond

Proposers Executive Committee

Motion text

Insert from line 108 to 109:

- negotiable legal floor, and all states must comply with the rulings of the European Court of Human Rights (ECtHR) without exception. Any attempts to limit the ECtHR's jurisdiction, especially over migration policy, including initiatives advanced by leaders such as Mette Frederiksen and Giorgia Meloni, as well as efforts associated with the Chi?in?u Declaration, must be firmly opposed and rejected.

Reason

This amendment makes clear that the ECHR and ECtHR must be defended not only in principle but also against ongoing political attempts to weaken their authority. By explicitly addressing efforts to restrict the Court's jurisdiction, particularly on migration, it strengthens the resolution's commitment to universal human rights and the rule of law.
