R4 AM28: Protecting International Law Against Empires: to Infinity and Beyond

Proposers Executive Committee

Motion text

Insert after line 151:

- The environmental impact of satellite proliferation, space mining, and militarised space infrastructure must be strictly regulated under binding international ecological standards.

Reason

This amendment strengthens the text by making clear that growing activity in space must also be environmentally regulated. It highlights the need for binding ecological standards to prevent exploitation and environmental harm in global commons.
